// THE PRODUCT

This is what you're selling.

Show these on your phone. Gym owners have never seen anything built specifically for their sport. Every single one of these screens is live and running right now at a real gym.

DISPLAY SCREEN

Workout of the Day — Live

Coach publishes in 30 seconds. Every TV in the gym updates instantly. Warped Wall, Rope Climb,

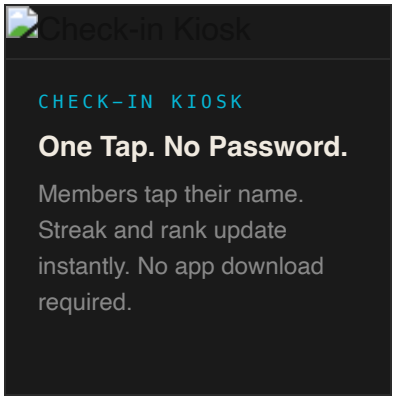

INTERVAL TIMER

Salmon Ladder built in.

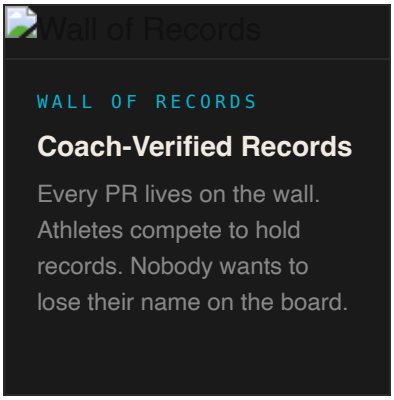

where they are.

CHECK-IN KIOSK

One Tap. No Password.

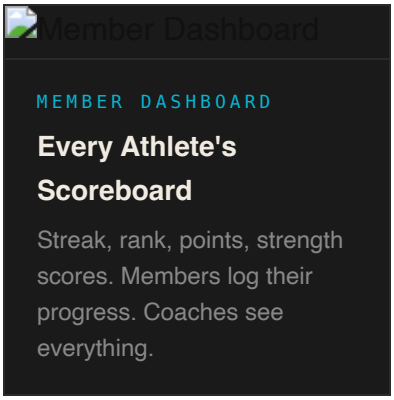

Members tap their name. Streak and rank update instantly. No app download required.

WALL OF RECORDS

Coach-Verified Records

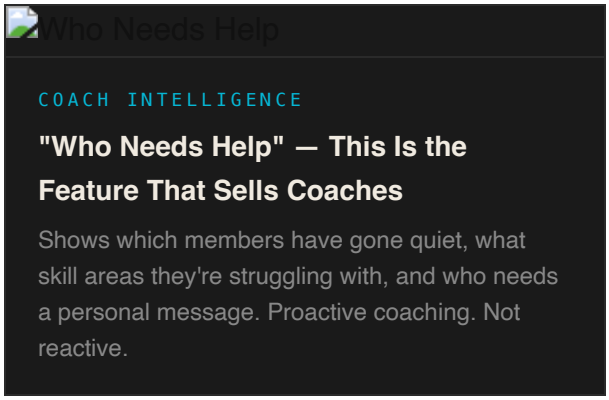

Every PR lives on the wall. Athletes compete to hold records. Nobody wants to lose their name on the board.

MEMBER DASHBOARD

Every Athlete's Scoreboard

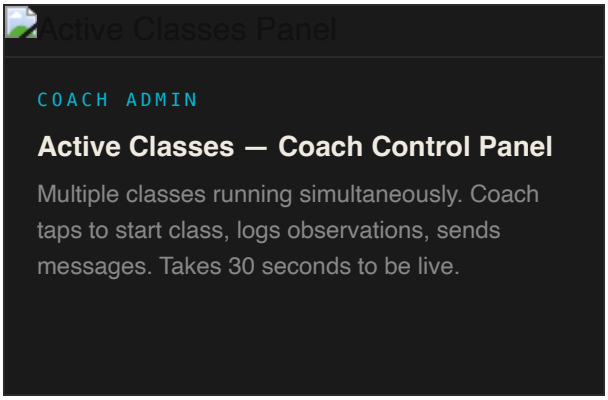

Streak, rank, points, strength scores. Members log their progress. Coaches see everything.

COACH INTELLIGENCE

"Who Needs Help" — This Is the Feature That Sells Coaches

Shows which members have gone quiet, what skill areas they're struggling with, and who needs a personal message. Proactive coaching. Not reactive.

COACH ADMIN

Active Classes — Coach Control Panel

Multiple classes running simultaneously. Coach taps to start class, logs observations, sends messages. Takes 30 seconds to be live.

// KNOW THESE COLD

5 things to say out loud.

You don't need to memorize a script. Just know these five points well enough to say them naturally in a conversation.

01

The WOD goes live in 30 seconds.

02

One tap. No app download. No password.

Coach opens the app, builds the workout, hits publish. Every TV in the gym updates in real time. No printing, no whiteboard, no texting the workout to the front desk.

Members walk up to the kiosk screen, tap their name, and their streak and rank update instantly. Zero friction = higher check-in rate = athletes that feel seen.

03

The leaderboard runs itself.

Points accumulate automatically based on check-ins, PRs, and coach recognition. Members compete. Competitive athletes don't cancel. Retention solves itself.

04

Coaches see who's struggling before they quit.

The "Who Needs Help" screen shows which members have gone quiet and what skill areas are getting flagged. Proactive coaching. Not finding out someone quit after they're already gone.

05

Built for this sport — not adapted from something generic.

Warped Wall, Salmon Ladder, Cliffhanger, Rope Climb are first-class exercises in the library. Race calendar, obstacle tracking, Spartan band logging — it's built by someone who trains in these gyms. Wodify was built for CrossFit. ForgeGrip was built for this.

THE CLOSE LINE — USE THIS WHEN THEY HESITATE

"If it keeps just one member from canceling their membership each month, it pays for itself."

Let that land. Then ask for the meeting. Don't say anything else.

// TARGET MARKET

Who to walk into.

You work out. You know gym culture. Use that. Walk into places you already have credibility.

1 Ninja Warrior Gyms — 🔥 HOTTEST

ForgeGrip's home niche. Obstacle courses, competitive athletes, leaderboard culture is built in. They WANT this product. Just show them the Wall of Records.

---

2 OCR Training Gyms — 🔥 HOTTEST

Gyms that train specifically for Spartan Race, Tough Mudder, DEKA FIT. These athletes track everything and love data. Show them the obstacle tracking feature.

---

3 CrossFit-Style Functional Gyms — WARM

They already have WOD culture and love PRs. The display screen is familiar. Easy to show value. Large market.

---

4 Bootcamp / HIIT Studios — LONGER PITCH

If they run group classes and track attendance, there's a fit. Less obvious sell but the check-in and leaderboard still land.

// HANDLE THESE

What they'll push back with.

These will come up. Know the answer before you walk in.

✗ "We already use Wodify / Mindbody / Zen Planner."

> "Those are great for scheduling and billing. ForgeGrip is what runs on your TVs, motivates members during class, and gives your coaches intel between sessions. A lot of gyms run both. They're not competitors."

✗ "I don't have time to set up a new system."

> "The setup is done for you. Francisco handles the whole onboarding — you get on a call, he sets everything up, trains your coaches, and you're live within a week. You don't touch anything technical."

✗ "We're a small gym, I don't think we can afford it."

> "Plans start at $299/month. If it keeps just one member from canceling, it pays for itself. Most gyms see payback in the first month."

✗ "Can I try it before committing?"

> "Francisco can do a 20-minute live demo — you'll see the actual app running, not a mockup. He can also set up a sandbox for your coaches to play with for a week. I'll get that set up."

✗ "What if we want to stop using it?"

> "You export your data — member list, workout history, records — and cancel anytime. No long-term contract unless you go annual for the discount."

// THE PROCESS

How the deal actually closes.

Your job is steps 1 and 2. Francisco handles everything after that.

01

YOU

Find the gym. Make the approach.

Walk in, cold email, slide into DMs. Get the owner curious. Use the "one member pays for itself" line. Goal: get them to agree to a 20-minute call with Francisco.

02

YOU

Text Francisco the lead.

Gym name, owner name, best contact method. That's all. Your commission clock starts the second you send this and the gym eventually signs.

03

FRANCISCO

Follows up within 24 hours, books the demo call.

Francisco reaches out to the owner and schedules a 20-minute video demo. You don't need to be on the call.

04

FRANCISCO

Demo call. Live app. Real gym.

Shows the WOD display, check-in kiosk, leaderboard, coach tools, and member dashboard. Walks through pricing. Answers every question.

05

FRANCISCO

Agreement signed, onboarding fee collected.

$1,500 onboarding + first month's subscription. Gym is live within a week.

06

YOU

Collect by the 15th every month.

Francisco pays your 15% commission monthly for 12 months per gym. No invoicing — he tracks it and pays automatically.
